

PREFACE

The writer turned to the presence of Allah SWT with praise and gratitude for His grace, and the author was able to complete a thesis entitled “Investigating Students' Reading Comprehension in Digital Business Letters.” This thesis was prepared as one of the requirements to complete an undergraduate program in the English Language Education Study Program.

In preparing this thesis, the author realized that much help, support, prayer, and guidance came from various parties. Therefore, on this occasion, the author would like to express gratitude to:

1. Beloved parents who always give endless prayers, affection, support, sacrifice, motivation, and enthusiasm to the author in every process of life, especially during the preparation of this thesis. Thank you for all the effort, attention, and trust you have given so that the author can complete this education well.
2. Luthfiyatuh Thoyibah, M.Pd., as a supervisor who has given direction, advice, motivation, and guidance with patience during the process of preparing the thesis.
3. Wawan Tarwana, M.Pd., as a supervisor who has provided input, support, and guidance so that the author can complete this thesis well.
4. All lecturers of the English Education Study Program who have provided knowledge, experience, and motivation during the lecture period.
5. The school where the research has given permission, assistance, and opportunities to the author to research so that this thesis can be completed properly.
6. Beloved brother who always gives support and encouragement to the author during the process of preparing this thesis.
7. A large family who always gives prayers, support, attention, and encouragement to the author so that the author can complete this thesis well.
8. To the members of Zeblak, which consists of Atin Parhawati, Nurul Herawati, Anju Najwatilah, and Anggi Puspitawati, the author would like to thank you profusely for the togetherness, support, enthusiasm, assistance, and motivation that have been given since the first semester until the author can complete the preparation of this thesis. Thank you for being a place to share stories, strengthen each other, and accompany each lecture process, so that many memories and valuable experiences will always be remembered by the author.

9. The G-ESA extended family for the 2022-2023 period has provided many valuable experiences, learning, and togetherness to the author during the lecture period.
10. DPM G-ESA extended family for the period 2023-2024, which has provided organizational experience and learning.
11. The big family of DPM FKIP for the period 2024-2025, which has provided experience, insight, and meaningful togetherness for the author during the lecture process.
12. To someone whose name the author does not mention, I express my sincere gratitude for all the prayers, support, help, attention, and sacrifice they have given me during the process of writing this paper. Thank you for being a part of my journey, giving encouragement at every step of the process, and always supporting me until I can complete the final project in completing this final project.
13. And thank you to myself for persevering, fighting, and pressing on to reach this point. Thank you for not giving up, despite the exhaustion, doubt, tears, and hardships faced throughout the process of completing this paper. Thank you for keeping at it when things felt overwhelming and for believing that every step of the journey would yield results. This paper stands as proof that I could overcome what once seemed so difficult. Thank you, self, for doing your best and choosing to keep fighting until the very end.
